Status of EMSI Operations after Hurricane Katrina

Irving, TX– September 6, 2005 – As previously reported, Examination Management Services, Inc. implemented its disaster recovery plan for the exam offices impacted by Hurricane Katrina on Monday August 29, 2005. The following office locations were forced to close due to the severe conditions in the aftermath of the Hurricane: New Orleans, LA, Gulfport, MS and Mobile, AL.

The New Orleans office has routed their toll-free and fax numbers to the Baton Rouge office. Baton Rouge is accepting all incoming calls and will communicate information, as appropriate, to applicants, agents and customers. The staff of the New Orleans office was able to evacuate before the storm and are safely out of the city.

The Mobile, AL office was able to reopen on September 6 and is accepting orders, although they have limited phone service. They have been in contact with all of their employees to confirm their well-being.

The Gulfport, MS office is still without power or phone service; however, attempts are being made to route calls to EMSI's PartnersPlus facility. In-process or pending orders cannot be serviced at this time. Fortunately, their staff members are safe and little damage was sustained to their homes.
