Texas Appoints EMSI Executive to Judge State Quality Awards

Scottsdale, AZ – October 31, 2005 – Examination Management Services, Inc. (EMSI) is pleased to announce that William H. Denney, Ph.D., Director of Quality and Performance Excellence, has been appointed to the Panel of Judges for the Texas Award for Performance Excellence.

The Texas Award for Performance Excellence is administered by the Quality Texas Foundation which was established in 1990 by the Texas Governor's office and the Texas Department of Commerce. The award is given annually to exceptional government, education, nonprofit, and business organizations identified as role models making Texas a better place to work and live.

The Panel of Judges, made up of leading business, healthcare, and education experts, is responsible for reviewing examiner scoring, analyzing feedback from site visits, and determining award recipients.

Dr. Denney currently serves on the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award Board of Examiners and was previously on the Examining Board for the Texas Award. He also serves on leadership boards at the American Society for Quality. Since his arrival at EMSI, he has been responsible for implementing broad organizational measurements, strengthening our auditing program, improving our standards, guiding process improvements, and building Quality-based relationships with customers.

This recognition of Dr. Denney's business expertise by the administrators of this prestigious state award is further acknowledgment of the professional level of all our staff who works every day to improve products and services for the benefit of our customers. It also demonstrates EMSI's commitment to the improvement of the communities within which we work and live.
